COMMUNITY AND MULTIAGENCY LEARNING PATHWAY

This pathway addresses the same learning as above but the learning emphasis is on identification.

Your learning starts by completing the eLearning. This prepares you to engage effectively in the 90 mins live session where the spot the signs are explored further. This enhances your skills of identification when engaging with others from the community and statutory agencies.

Further learning is offered where there is a 60 min total of online training resources to complete your learning that matches your training needs. These include Frequently asked Questions, Legislation overview and procedures. This is set at your own pace.

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING PATHWAY

This pathway addresses the same learning as above but the learning emphasis is on trauma-informed response.

It is suitable for first responders, professionals and those supporting first responders who may come into contact with potential victims of modern slavery and human trafficking. Your learning starts by completing the eLearning and selected modules about the National Referral Mechanism (NRM) and the principles of a trauma-informed response.

This prepares you to engage effectively in the 60 mins live session where a staged case study of a potential victim explores how you respond. This enhances your trauma-informed response skills in the context of legislative measures, such as the NRM.

Further learning is offered where you can select online training resources to match your learning needs, set at your own pace.

Choose your Learning Pathway for Modern Slavery Awareness

If you are a concerned member of the public about modern slavery select the UK eLearning: Know, It See it and Respond to it.

If you work or volunteer in the community either in a multi-agency network or charity, select the Community/Multi-agency pathway. This enables you to network and focus on identification .

If you are a busy professional or first responder whose training needs to focus on early response and support select the Professional/ First responder pathway.

What do others say about our training?

UK eLearning

“A concise yet impactful top line introduction of modern slavery and human trafficking. A difficult topic to comprehend but extremely important that awareness continues to be raised. I'd absolutely recommend sparing 30 minutes to complete.”

Gabrielle

Modern Slavery Awareness

“Detailed and up to date information was used and the real stories and videos make a huge impact to highlighting the reality of the issues.”

Delegate
