HOPE FOR JUSTICE

CALL FOR EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST

Board of Directors

Hope for Justice is a global anti-slavery organisation working to bring freedom from human trafficking, modern slavery and exploitation. Operating across multiple countries, we combine frontline services, survivor support, community prevention, policy influence, business engagement and systems change to help create a world free from slavery.

As Hope for Justice establishes and grows its Australian presence, we believe there is a unique opportunity to mobilise Australian generosity, expertise and influence in support of our mission. We are currently inviting expressions of interest from experienced leaders in Australia to join the governance journey of Hope for Justice Australia, as part of our Board of Directors.

This is an exciting opportunity to help build something significant from the ground up: a locally governed, globally connected organisation with a vision to become a major Australian contributor to the fight against modern slavery. The leaders who join us now will help shape our trajectory, influence and impact for years to come.

Our Directors will demonstrate a genuine commitment to human rights, dignity, and freedom, together with the passion and energy required to advance Hope for Justice's impact. We are particularly interested in individuals who bring:

- Entrepreneurial, growth-oriented governance
- Strategic partnership and relationship-building capabilities
- Experience scaling organisations, charities, social enterprises or businesses
- Access to influential philanthropic, business or high-net-worth networks
- Strong relationships with influential faith-based, church and community networks
- Major philanthropy and fundraising expertise, especially in Australia
- Family office, wealth advisory or philanthropic advisory experience
- Financial, legal or governance expertise that supports organisational growth

Our existing governance structures provide strong oversight and compliance capability. What we need now are builders, connectors and advocates who can help turn our ambition into momentum. We are seeking passionate people who are willing to champion the organisation, leverage their networks, and act as ambassadors for the mission; making introductions, cultivating new partnerships, expanding our reach, challenging our thinking and helping to mobilise the support required to grow.

Hope for Justice is a faith-founded organisation with a long-standing commitment to justice, human dignity and freedom. Our services are provided to all beneficiaries regardless of their beliefs and without expectation of religious participation. Our staff and partners represent diverse faith and non-faith backgrounds, united by a common desire to combat modern slavery and support survivor recovery. We welcome people of all backgrounds who are committed to advancing our mission to end human trafficking and modern slavery.

If you are excited by the challenge of helping establish and grow a nationally significant anti-slavery organisation in Australia, we would love to hear from you. To register your interest, please submit a professional biography and/or resume, and a brief statement describing what attracts you to the mission of Hope for Justice and how you believe you could contribute to our future growth, reach and impact.

Please submit your Expressions of Interest by 16th December 2026
to: info.au@hopeforjustice.org
